

Thursday 13th January 2022

I can describe a mismatched animal.

Write your date.

Write your learning objective.

Thursday 13th January 2022

I can describe a mismatched animal.

Parakard

What is its name?

What animals is it made from?

What does it look like?

Where would it live?

What does it eat?

What noise would it make?

How does it move?

can describe a mismatched animal.

Let's write about the Parakard.

Thursday 13th January 2022

I can describe a mismatched anir

Things to include:

Capital letters and full stops

Finger spaces

Conjunctions (and, but, because)

Adjectives (noun phrases)

What is its name

What animals is it made from?

What does it look like?

Where would it live?

What does it eat?

What noise would it make?

How does it move?

13.1.22

MATHS

10:45 - 11:45

1 3 . 1 . 2 2

A4 I know number bonds

A8

Draw a margin

Write your date

Write your learning objective.

Key Words
number
bonds

1.3.1.2.2

I know number bonds

Look at these two numbers.
What is the same? What is different?

10

20

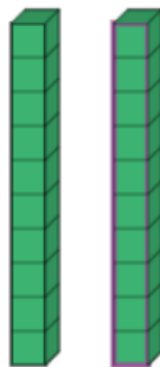

Key Words
number
bonds

1.3.1.2.2

I know number bonds

Key Words
number
bonds

Look at the diennes.
What is the same? What is different?

1.3.1.2.2

I know number bonds

Key Words
number
bonds

Use the interactive
diennes to find number
bonds.

If 5 ones and 5 ones make 10.

What will make 20?

13.1.22

I know number bonds

Key Words
number
bonds

Use the diennes how many number bonds can you find?

Write down the number bonds
that you find.

Theme

1:30-2:00

13.1.22

I can compare London in the present and the past

How was London different in the past?

We are about to go back in time by around 350 years to visit London in the year 1666. This was a very important year in the history of London. In pairs, discuss your ideas about how London might have been different at that time.

Discuss these topics:

- Houses and buildings; what might these have been built from?
- People; what might they have worn?
- Transport; how would people in London have travelled around?
- Roads and streets at night; what might they have looked like?

This is a 17th Century map of London- can you see the River Thames?

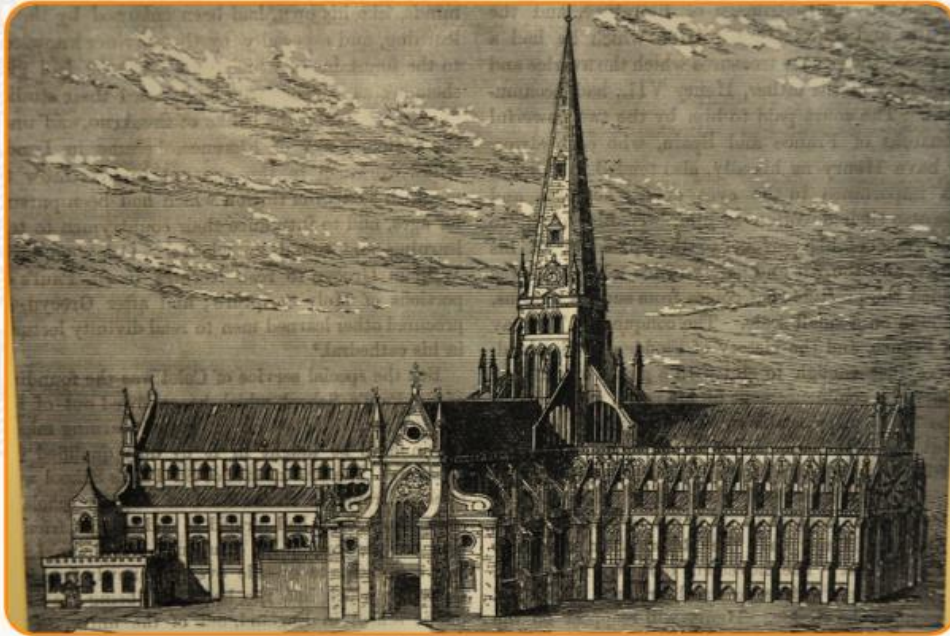

Here is a painting of the River Thames.

Here is the River Thames today. How has it changed?

This is a drawing of St Pauls Cathedral (pre 1666)

How has St Pauls Cathedral changed?

This is an artistic impression of the view of 17th Century London with the present day view in the distance.

13.1.22

I can compare London in the present and the past

In the past,

Now,