

Write a persuasive speech which explains why you should be given £100,000.

Give reasons for your opinion, develop your ideas with facts and write a conclusion which summarises your arguments.

Story-Writing Task 2

A Lesson Learnt

Use this picture to write a story with a moral.

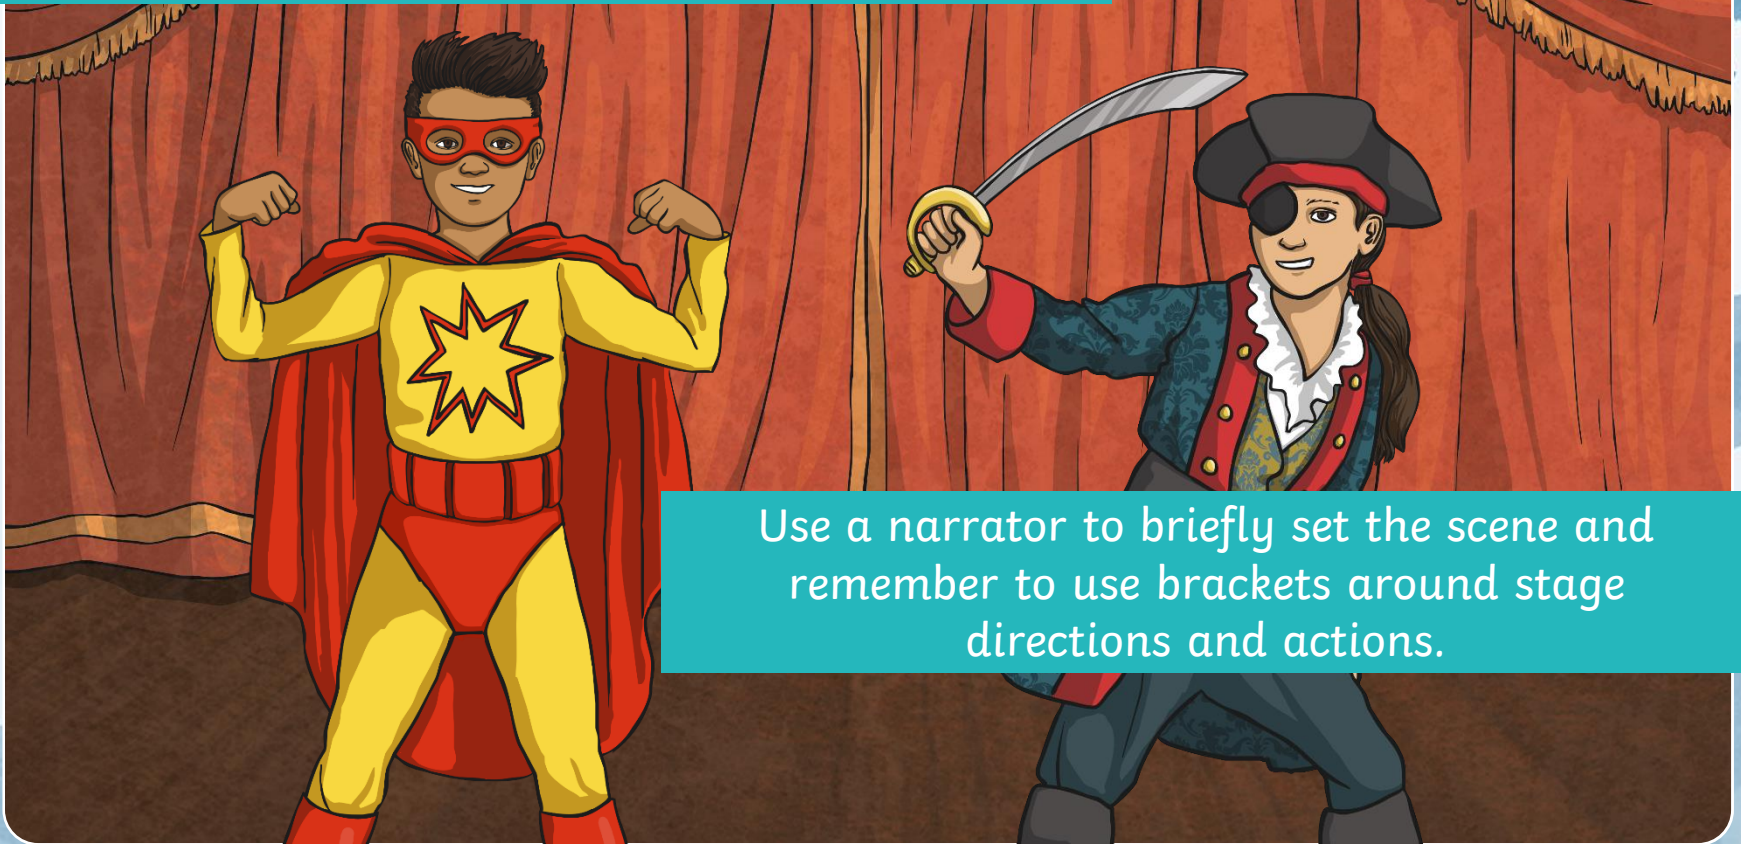

You should include a character who makes a mistake but learns a valuable lesson by doing so.

Story-Writing Task 3

The Perfect Play

Write your own play script in which two very different characters become friends and have to work together to solve a problem.

Use a narrator to briefly set the scene and remember to use brackets around stage directions and actions.

Story-Writing Task 4

Decisions, Decisions

Use this picture to write a riddle.

The answer to your riddle should reveal which door to choose but your riddle cannot directly state the answer.

I can't believe it;
I've finally got my dream job! Yet, I can't tell anyone about it because my dream job
is not an ordinary job.
My job is...

Continue the story.
What is your new job?
What does your new job involve?
